

Last Week's Attendance Report

	Sunday School	Morning Service	Evening Service	Mid-Week Meetings	Final
Goal	92	189	50	50	$8,965
4/9	55	153	22	45	$7,978.28

Nursery Schedule

10:30 AM	D. Reyes	M. Sloley	L. Oneida
----------	----------	-----------	-----------

The purpose of FBC is to lead people into a growing relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ and to strengthen Christ's local church.

March 2017

Income: $33,538

Budget: $41,000

Shortfall: $7,462

Please Pray
for Bergen County
Christian
Academy

Contact Us!

(201) 487-7212

www.mybccca.org

Email: Office@mybccca.org

Bergen County
Christian
Academy

Current enrollment for 2017–2018 School Year: 105

Front Cover by French Press Mornings

WHY DO YOU
SEEK THE LIVING
AMONG THE DEAD?
HE IS NOT HERE,
BUT HAS RISEN.

LUKE 24:5-6

First Baptist Church of Hackensack
15 Conklin Place Hackensack, NJ 07601
(201) 487-1244

WORSHIP . GROW . SERVE

April 16, 2017 ~ Happy Resurrection Day!

TODAY

SS Staff Prayer Meeting 8:45 AM

No Sunday School today.

Resurrection Breakfast 9:15—10:15 AM

Morning Worship Service 10:30 AM

Resurrection Truth and You:
“Staying Stable in an Unstable Society”

1 Corinthians 15:1-58

King’s Kids: Easter Celebration

 No Evening Service Tonight ***

LATER THIS WEEK

Wednesday, Estudio Biblico 8 PM

Thursday, Prayer Meeting 7 PM

Saturday, “Mission Possible” Workday 9—11 AM

Thank you for worshipping with us today!

 First Baptist Church of Hackensack

www.FBCinfo.org

Email: Office@fbcinfo.org

The Resurrection

Matthew 28 • Mark 16 • Luke 24 • John 20

Early in the morning, the women went to the tomb. It was the first day of the week and they had a lot to do, so they got an early start visiting the body of Jesus, making sure everything was as it should be before embarking on their journey home.

Why did they go to the tomb? Because they assumed they would find Jesus there — dead. They had seen Him die. They had watched His body go into the cave. Dead people then, as now, tended to stay dead.

But something was not right. The stone was rolled away. And upon closer inspection, they found the grave clothes, but not the corpse. There was no body.

What in the world was going on?

Suddenly two men appeared, their clothes shining bright as lightning.

“What are you doing here looking for a live person among dead bodies?”

We aren't looking for a live person; we're looking for a dead man.

“He has risen just like He said He would. Don't you remember?”

Hmmm...That does sound familiar. He did say something about that.

More than once, if memory serves. But He also said that He was the Messiah, and Messiahs aren't supposed to die . Messiahs are supposed to kill the bad guys, not be killed by the bad guys. Wow, those clothes are bright!

“Hurry back and tell the others that Jesus Christ is no longer dead.”

Bursting back into the room where the dejected followers of Jesus were, these women began to tell them what had just happened. But where do you even begin to explain the inexplicable? It didn't make sense. The stone was where? There were two men whose clothes were shiny who said what? It had been a long and traumatic week for everyone — especially the women. There had been the parade into the city, that incident in the Temple, the Passover, the death of Jesus, and now this. Maybe these women ought to lie down.

It was nonsense to everyone. Except Peter. Peter started thinking back to a conversation he'd had with Jesus a while back. Jesus had asked everyone, “Who do you really think I am?”

Peter had answered Jesus before he even realized his mouth was open: “You're the One — the Messiah.”

And Jesus had applauded him for his answer. But then Jesus had started talking about death and resurrection. It hadn't made sense at the time. And when Peter tried to interrupt Jesus, there were harsh words exchanged.

Peter bolted from the room, John hot on his heels.

Arriving at the tomb, they saw the strips of linen — but not the body. What could this possibly mean? You don't suppose...