Dunmanway is the hometown of Sam Maguire whose name is made famous by the All-Ireland Senior Football cup that is named after him.

Everyone in Ireland knows the name 'Sam Maguire', and we want you to know the story of the man behind the cup. We also would love you to experience the area where Sam was brought up, the fresh food, farm animals, beautiful scenery and rural way of life.

We have put together a new exciting school tour package that includes history, agricultural education, activities and good fun. We hope that you will take the opportunity to learn more about Sam Maguire and West Cork by coming to visit us for your school tour.

This tour is being organised by Fanlobbus Union of Parishes where Sam went to church and school, and you can see more on our Website:-
