

Anza Baptist Church

Order of Service for April 19, 2020

Dear Friends and Family of Anza Baptist Church,

We thank God for His continued faithfulness and care through these uncertain times in our country due to the coronavirus, and we look forward to encouraging one another in faith this Sunday with every means available.

Begin with worship the Lord in song with your family this Sunday. To help you choose worship songs for your at-home church service, we have included a link to the Getty's website where they have made some of their worship music videos available. You may need to enter your email address to access these songs. The link to these songs will be on our website above the sermon video.
